

By desperately to pickles for relief, but find none. Even pickles are only a compound of verdigris, copperas, arsenic, prussic acid, belladonna; even the gherkins themselves have had the sunbeams extracted from them, as described by Gulliver, and there is nothing left but a poisonous fruit, bitter to the taste as loads of tongues. But amid the sounds of wailing there are suddenly heard cheers and cries of joy. Relief is found; an antidote is discovered. Where? In short weights. Fortunately for the community, fortunately for the lives of all our men, women and children the grocers don't sell full weights, and hence the danger of desolation and annihilation is still remote. Heaven only knows what would become of the people if these dealers in drugs and poisonous compounds sold full weight. They would all go to kingdom come as swiftly as a flat-bottomed skiff would glide over Niagara.

Seriously, how strange it is that the analyses of these alleged poisonous compounds do not always agree, even when performed by the same chemists. A sample of liquor, for instance, is taken to an analyzer, and it is pronounced everything that is bad and injurious, poisonous and deadly. A sample of the same liquor is presented for analysis by another party and it is declared free from impurities, unadulterated, good and wholesome. Not to add a deeper crimson to the infamy that already marks the iniquities of these Bohemian poisoners, they should at least have taken the precaution to have had correct analyses taken of the various compounds they had examined. But we see these analyses of the same article, taken by the same chemist, do not agree. Somebody, therefore, must be wrong. Who is to blame? Can it be that such profound, learned and world-renowned chemists and philosophers as Professor Draper and Professor Doremus have been duped and bamboozled into lending their professional countenance to the nefarious schemes of these needy and irresponsible Bohemians? They are reputed to enjoy a comprehensive knowledge of the highest and most mysterious labyrinth in the regions of chemistry and natural and physical philosophy. Is it possible they lack common sense? Although perfect in the avenues of science are they only dull plodders in the walks of everyday wisdom? But, after all, they may not be to blame any more than those other worthy men, the grocers and traders, who have been so grossly libelled by these Bohemians. It is possible that the latter, not satisfied in their devilish malice to destroy the reputations of honest tradesmen, must needs essay to damage those of our most respectable chemists and philosophers. Be that as it may, it is certain that the indignation of the community, as well as the more practical operation of the law of libel, has compelled these Bohemian harpies to seek their polluted nests, from which it will be dangerous for them to emerge for a long time to come.

AMNESTY SIGNED, SEALED AND DELIVERED.—A despatch from Washington last night informs us that United States Attorney General Evarts has issued instructions to all the district attorneys in the United States ordering them to discontinue proceedings against "all persons accused of treasonable offences for acts committed during the late rebellion." This, of course, covers the case of Jefferson Davis and all the rest of those distinguished ex-rebels about whose status under the amnesty proclamation of President Johnson there has been expressed some doubt.

Important Telegraphic Proceedings in Committee in Washington.—Our despatches from Washington last night inform us that at a meeting of the House Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads Mr. E. B. Washburne made an argument in favor of his bill for constructing a government line of postal telegraph from Washington to New York, no doubt destined to extend further. He declared that "the people were tired of the insolent monopoly known as the Western Union Telegraph Company," and looked to their representatives in Congress for relief. It seems that the officers of the Western Union Company have boasted that this bill would be killed in committee, and Mr. Washburne said he "would see if this boast could be made good." We here see an initiative step taken in the great march of telegraphic intercommunication commensurate with the progress of commerce, civilization and social intelligence all over the country—indeed, throughout the world. The pioneer effort of Professor Morse in telegraphing was a line only forty-five miles long, from Hallowell to Washington. Reflect upon what gigantic proportions it has now reached: The people desire to send cheap telegraphic messages, almost as cheap as they send their letters, and they will be able to do so if Congressmen, spurning the intrigues of a grasping monopoly like the Western Union Company, will come up to the work as they should. If they do not they may rest assured that some of them will have to leave to remain at home after their present period of service in the halls of national legislation expires. Washburne is on the right track. Go ahead.

THE PARIS CONFERENCE.—Our cable despatches received last night inform us that the Grecian Ambassador has been politely kicked out of the Parisian Conference and that the Conference has adjourned to await the action thereupon of the home government of the Greek. This does not look very like a peaceful solution of the difficulties between Turkey and Greece, which former cable despatches predicted. It seems to have been a sort of vendetta handshaking—a hearty shake and a stab under the fifth rib. The proceedings of the Conference when it next meets will no doubt be interesting.

PROTECTION OVER HAYTI AND ST. DOMINGO.—In the House of Representatives yesterday Mr. Banks, of Massachusetts, offered his joint resolution proposing the protection of the United States over Hayti and St. Domingo. A debate ensued, but, without arriving at any decision, the resolution was laid over until to-day.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.—ACCIDENT.—Thomas Condon yesterday fell down a hatchway at No. 6 Grosvenor lane, and was seriously injured. He was taken to his home at No. 27 Montague street.

RESCUED FROM DROWNING.—Peter Hahoe, a resident of Jersey City, while strolling last night about the river, fell into the water and was rescued by officers of the first precinct.

A Hitch in the Proceedings of the Conference on the Eastern Question—The Greek Ambassador Denied Participation in the Sessions.

LONDON, Jan. 12, 1869.

For some unexplained reason Rios Rangabe, the Grecian Ambassador at Paris, who it was supposed would represent Greece in the conference, has been refused participation in its sessions. He has protested against his exclusion and appealed to the Grecian government at Athens for instructions. The conference will await the action of Greece in this matter, and the session announced for to-day will probably be postponed for a time in consequence.

Progress of the Peace Commission—Reinforcement to Navarre Defeated by the Rebels—Revolutionary Cigar Makers—More Liberal Work by General Dulac—A General Amnesty Proclamation—Arrival of 1,500 Soldiers from Cadix.

HAVANA, Jan. 12, 1869.

It is reported on good authority that the commission which left for Navarre yesterday to meet the rebel chiefs at Bayamo is fully empowered to concede pardon and political rights and liberties on the basis that the island of Cuba shall continue under the flag of Spain.

The United States steamer Gettysburg has returned from Navarre. The rebels were closely pressing the siege of the town. The steamer had turned out of the harbor into a fortress, and with the assistance of the Spanish vessels of war in the harbor were holding out until reinforcements could reach them. A detachment of troops sent by land to their relief was defeated by the insurgents. The latter have no artillery, but are well supplied with Spencer rifles, which they use with effect.

The planters of the surrounding country were much disheartened by fear of famine.

A large party, about 400 in number, consisting mostly of cigar makers, attempted to leave the city in a body on Sunday last on the Western Railroad. It was suspected that their object was to produce a revolt in the town of Candelaria. All who had passports were allowed to proceed, but the rest were detained and obliged to return home. Up to the present moment there has been no disturbance whatever in Candelaria.

Captain General Dulac is working industriously to reconcile the political factions here and make the extremists listen to reason, and is personally gaining ground in the esteem of the order-loving citizens of all parties.

An amnesty proclamation by the Captain General appears in the Gaceta to-day. It releases all political prisoners, terminates all trials for political offences now in progress and holds out unconditional pardon to all insurgents who lay down their arms within forty days.

Two excursion trains left here this morning over the Albany and Susquehanna Railroad, the occasion being the celebration of the opening of the road through Birmingham. The trains carried out a number of the State officials, members of the Legislature and prominent railroad men from abroad, together with many prominent citizens of Albany.

Advices from Mexico give a rumor that Governor Vega, of Colima, had obtained three months' leave of absence to visit the interior. The Governor is represented as being very ill, and in behalf of more liberal legislation by the State Legislature. The system of taxation lately introduced is regarded as unsuccessful. Most of the industrial citizens will probably abandon the State.

A new lighthouse is to be erected at Manzanillo, to take the place of the present miserable affair. A good wagon road is also to be built between Manzanillo and Colima. The authorities are acting vigorously against the highway robbers. Three road robbers were recently captured and shot near Colima. Terrible land slides had occurred in different parts of the country, involving considerable loss of property. Cereals had appeared where previously nothing but barren deserts had existed. These facts were attended with continuous rumblings of the earth.

A Northern Negro Elected Reading Clerk of the Senate—The Impachment Question Dying Out.

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 12, 1869.

In the Senate to-day Mr. Gambrie, a Northern negro, was elected reading clerk.

A resolution offered by Mr. Walls (colored republican) requesting the Senate to call on Senator Osborn to repair to Washington and attend to Senatorial duties was tabled by one majority.

A similar resolution, offered in the House by Mr. Scott (colored), was withdrawn.

The Senate to-day rejected a resolution offered by Mr. Scott (colored) for the impeachment of a member of the House for treason.

Presentation of a Medal Awarded by Congress to an English Naval Officer—The Negro Disturbances at Kempville Quelled.

PORTSMOUTH, Mass., Jan. 12, 1869.

Major General William P. Barry has been directed by the War Department to present Captain Robert Creighton, commanding the royal mail steamship Vancouver, with the medal awarded him by Congress for gallantry in the capture of the rebel steamer General Sherman, in the bark Three Bells, some years ago. The presentation is to take place at Norfolk, at nine o'clock to-morrow morning.

The recent disturbance near Kempville, Va., between the negroes and the local authorities, which resulted in the loss of life and property, has been quieted by the arrival of company. Fifth United States artillery, upon the scene. They will probably remain there for a few days, until perfect quiet is restored, and then return to Norfolk.

Brevet Brigadier General William Hays, Major Fifth United States Infantry, has been ordered to report at Washington, and will leave by the Baltimore boat to-night.

Fatal Railroad Accident—A Sleeping Car Hurtled Down an Embankment—The Conductor and Two Passengers Killed.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 12, 1869.

A terribly fatal accident occurred at an early hour this morning to the night train on the Pan-Handle Railroad, at Cork's Run Point, about three miles below this city. The heavy rain yesterday washed the earth from beneath the track, and left hundreds of feet without foundation. When the train reached the place all the cars were hurled down the embankment, and the engine and the other portion of the train, breaking the coupling, and was hurled over an embankment fully sixty feet high. The cars contained seven persons, out of which number three were killed instantly and the others were seriously injured. The names of the persons who met their death were John Allen, of Springfield, Ohio; Robert Chesney, of Springfield, Ohio; and Henry C. Borset, also of Springfield, Ohio. Outrage by a Negro—He is Lynched by the Ku Kluxes and His Body Burned.

MEMPHIS, Jan. 12, 1869.

Saturday night a negro named Abe Vandenberg went to the house of William Smith, an employee of the Mississippi Central Railroad, at Water Valley, Miss., and after a desperate struggle succeeded in entering the person of Mrs. Smith, but not before he had strangled her little daughter until she was insensible. As soon as it was daylight Mrs. Smith alarmed the neighbors. The man was then seized and taken to the jail. He was finally placed in jail for safe keeping. That night, however, the Ku Klux in strong force took him out and burned his body. The body of the child was also burned. The bodies of the killed were brought to this city and a coroner was summoned to hold an inquest.

Progress of the Senatorial Contest—Sharp Work Going On—Prospects of Fenton and Morgan—Rumors about the Democratic Majority—Two Susquehanna Railroad Excursions.

ALBANY, Jan. 12, 1869.

A new phase has turned up in the Senatorial contest in the shape of a circular, which has been distributed among the republican members, purporting to come from the friends of Judge Davis, claiming that he has been cheated by Fenton, that he is again in the field and will be put before the caucus. This is put down as a dodge of the Morgan men, but is not likely to damage Fenton. Fenton looks better to-night. It is said that Morgan is getting weak in the "green-back" and thinks that expectations have run too high. He is becoming scared, and I have heard he whispered that he may possibly withdraw at a late moment in favor of a third man. Fenton's friends boast that after Morgan and Roberts have exhausted their pite he is ready to bring out a fresh sum and undo all their work.

I give the rumors merely, for there is no certainty about the result. The time for the caucus has not been fixed. The Morgan men will state it off to the last moment in hope of a change. It is not probable that the Speaker will name the committees to-morrow, but he has said that he will do so before the caucus, and will not be influenced by the event. There are very few who believe this statement.

A whole flock of Morgan Congressmen alighted here this evening. They are very busy. Morgan and Fenton retain quite equal popularity. No action has been taken for the democratic caucus. Four names are talked of—Seymour, Sanford E. Church, H. Murphy and Joseph Shannon—each with a minority nomination; but no one has made up his mind yet.

The Susquehanna Railroad excursion was rather a tame and cheerless affair. Very few members attended it. The Governor was not there. The city is filling up with politicians.

Meeting of the State Sportsmen's Association—Its Proceedings—Bills Proposed to be Passed by the Legislature—Opening of the Albany and Susquehanna Railroad.

ALBANY, Jan. 12, 1869.

The State Sportsmen's Association met in this city to-day. Mr. Bryan Archer, of Wayne county, was made chairman, and Colonel Wheeler, of Syracuse, secretary. Resolutions were passed recommending important changes in the existing game laws. A committee, consisting of Mr. Bryan Archer, H. B. Roosevelt, H. M. Skeels, Moses Summers, C. J. Folger and H. Murphy, was appointed to prepare a bill in accordance with the recommendation of the association for enactment by the Legislature. Also a bill incorporating the Albany and Susquehanna Railroad.

AMUSEMENTS.

THEATRE FALCONER.—The second representation of "L'Alibi Greco" showed many marked improvements over the first night. The chorus was firmer and given with admirable dash and spirit, and some of the characters were greatly improved. Desclausens confirmed the favorable impressions she produced on Monday evening, and looked sang and acted charmingly. Over to the new comedy of Mme. Rose Bell, Mlle. Gueretti sang the rôle of Dincolante at a short notice. She made a favorable debut in the character, considering the short time she had to prepare it. A number of "L'Alibi Greco" will be given on Saturday.

STEINWAY HALL.—Olé Bull's concert last night was crowded to the doors, and was altogether a decided success. The programme included some splendid selections, which were efficiently performed by the orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Bergmann. It is almost needless to state that Olé Bull's wonderful display on the violin was received with loud manifestations of applause. His interpretation of the "Mother's Prayer," an old favorite of his, was a perfect masterpiece. The concert was rapidly and additionally attractive by Miss Barton and "Mr. Hall, the former by his pleasing rendition of "Al, Mon Fil," and the latter in Pachelbel's "Air." The "Polaca Guerrilla," in which Mr. Bull showed some brilliant execution, brought the concert to a termination.

His interpretation of the "Mother's Prayer," an old favorite of his, was a perfect masterpiece. The concert was rapidly and additionally attractive by Miss Barton and "Mr. Hall, the former by his pleasing rendition of "Al, Mon Fil," and the latter in Pachelbel's "Air." The "Polaca Guerrilla," in which Mr. Bull showed some brilliant execution, brought the concert to a termination.

THEATRE FALCONER.—The second representation of "L'Alibi Greco" showed many marked improvements over the first night. The chorus was firmer and given with admirable dash and spirit, and some of the characters were greatly improved. Desclausens confirmed the favorable impressions she produced on Monday evening, and looked sang and acted charmingly. Over to the new comedy of Mme. Rose Bell, Mlle. Gueretti sang the rôle of Dincolante at a short notice. She made a favorable debut in the character, considering the short time she had to prepare it. A number of "L'Alibi Greco" will be given on Saturday.

STEINWAY HALL.—Olé Bull's concert last night was crowded to the doors, and was altogether a decided success.
